

Trombonist, Pianist, Composer, Educator, avid instrumental musician, Justin Brown has had a phenomenal career despite setbacks from a major car accident. Earning opportunities to tour around the world with multiple groups such as the King's Brass, played with numerous orchestras and was recently the Principal Trombonist for the Fox Valley Symphony Orchestra in Aurora Illinois, composed and recorded multiple albums and movie soundtracks, and has played in a plethora of musicals such as "Big" and "Chicago". Justin is an avid educator as well, teaching publicly and privately. From being an Assistant Band/Choir Director at multiple Middle and High Schools, to maintaining a private studio of ages ranging from 3-93, working as an Assistant Trombone Teacher for the University of Illinois "Trombone Camp", to coaching others trying to find their footing in getting their music out there in the world. Justin is most interested in how music positively affects our lives, communities, and our world and wants everyone to have an amazing experience.
